Please note: * indicates a title that is a close substitute text from that suggested in Mishra's original bibliography

Pankaj Mishra's 2017 book The Age of Anger: A History of the Present offers an intellectual history of the last 300-years. To support his arguments, Mishra supplies the reader with a detailed bibliographic essay at the end of the book, which provides a myriad of opportunities for further reading. Many of these books are available to loan from the Information and Research (IAR) department at the Central Library, and are listed here (along with a handful of titles that can be found elsewhere in our library service; see our online catalogue for full details of book locations: capitadiscovery.co.uk/leeds). To access any of these titles, contact IAR using the details on the front-page of this guide.
